

The Power of the Mind

Apologetics [Discutere]

Deacon George Collins

What is a thought? Is a thought real? Thought has no physical properties but is a power to process ideas. Thought becomes useless unless it can be communicated, otherwise it remains totally personal and secret. It has value as the only means to communicate with God, regardless of what language it is conceived in. There is no language barrier to overcome unless the thought is spoken.

All creation comes from the mind of God. Nothing pre-existed except the mind of God. God created the invisible heaven, the visible earth and the endless space into which the physical existence was placed. All is held in place by the power of Gods' mind and His limitless love. Should God stop thinking of His creation all would fall back to nothingness, including endless space. Gods' thought was communicated into reality by the power of His love. And here we are! But where are we?

Science is trying to reconcile the irreconcilable. It tries to place us today on a tangent trajectory from where we were and predict where we are going in the future. As the trajectory looks back, it tries to identify the ultimate beginning of existence. It keeps unwinding the micro elements of matter but it cannot account for the ultimate beginning of material existence and life from nothing.

The void of nothing cannot create something out of nothing to begin the process of existence. But science continues to try in vain. Conversely, the trajectory into the future depends on the development of the element of speed. The theory is the more we develop speed the more we come to understand ourselves and where we are going. If it were possible to reach the edges of the void of space through speed, where would we be? How long would it take? What is the purpose?

Speed is determined by force, density, resistance and temperature of the medium. Science has only conquered the speed of sound which is 761 miles per hour. Next is electric speed; then atomic speed. The next step is to conquer the speed of light which is 186,000 miles per second. Beyond that there is warp speed which is beyond the speed of light, an exotic concept. The only thing that is as fast as light is a shadow. The lower the temperature, the slower the speed. At absolute zero temperature speed slows to a standstill. Outer space is virtually absolute zero. The further from the heat of the sun [or suns] the colder it gets; the slower speed becomes and its energy becomes dissipated. Futility, futility, all is futility!

However, harbored in the mind of man is a power that exceeds all speed limitations of time, material and matter. It is called the power of the mind. It can instantaneously project the mind to the gates of heaven, the portals of hell, or the edges of space. The source of this human thought is called faith; faith in the power of Gods' mind which is the source of all that is. The power of human thought is not in creating but trying to understand and develop that which has already been created. Science is not the creator but the developer. The developer uses the power of the mind to project its thoughts to understand and uncover what is.

Anything that is yet to be discovered or uncovered already exists now in nature. The mind of man can manipulate what is, but cannot create, for creation already is by the power of God's mind. The finite mind of man cannot understand the infinite mind of God. Science is but the limited witness of men to the witness of God's material creation. The successful use of the power of man's mind is found in the wisdom of his own limitations. Knowing one's defects does not mean that they are approved of, or are used morally.

Science is not wisdom. Wisdom is how to apply the power of the mind using the scientific realities already created by God.

There is reality to things other than that which is tangible. Top of the list is love, thought, forgiveness, joy, justice, truth, etc. On the negative side is anger, hatred, prejudice, lying, lust, coyness, sloth, envy, etc. These are not just emotions but actions of the mind and heart (realities.) All of these things can be transmitted from the mind to physical actions. Use the power of your mind well to achieve the greatest treasure of all; a crown in heaven living in the perfect existence of God's love for endless eternity where the power of the mind will be at rest!
